

The GRAMCORD for Windows Search Template

GRAMCORD Search

Construct: < 1 > >> Search Type: Clause Number: 1 Order Specific Save Open Book(s): New Testamen Search... Cancel

Context: < any > Edit Clear Advanced Help!

CLASS Type: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Tense: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Voice: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Mood: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Person: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Number: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Gender: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Case: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Class: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Subclass: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Degree: [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

Lemma(s): [none] [none] [none] [none] [none]

AGREE: Proximity: < any > < any > < any > < any >

any [] [] [] [] []

any [] [] [] [] []

Position: none none none none none

While reading through Philippians 1, let's say you find the word μένω interesting to your study. You would like to know where else in the New Testament μένω occurs. By clicking the GRAMCORD Search button, call up the GRAMCORD Search Template. Here you will see a template consisting of several columns. Each column can contain an element of a grammatical search. Let's look at some of the features of the GRAMCORD for Windows Search Template.